Treatment cost by Illness (Vietnam):

In Vietnam there are many first rate clinics and hospitals, both International and Local. As with most things in this world the highest price does not always equal the best care. Clinics/hospitals are in business to make profit and will charge what they believe people will pay. More expensive does not always mean better service/quality. The clinic/hospital a client seeks is a personal choice. A client needs to choose a place that matches their preference and budget.
